

Alpine Dental Health

Like Fort Collins itself, Alpine Dental Health is a warm and friendly place, where people matter most. We revel in this sense of community and the crisscross of lives—we're just as likely to see patients on the bike trail or at the brewery as we are in our dental office.

As a homegrown group of local dentists (including our CSU alum Dr. Cunningham!), we've joined together around the idea that people should be treated well. This simple belief drives all that we do. We like to get to know people, and we like to take the time to care for them the right way.

More than just words, our motto, "We make it easy for you to smile," is an experience we strive to deliver each day for our family of patients. Come see us at one of our two convenient Fort Collins locations!
